Questions for Reflection and Discussion

Isaiah 59:1-17

The past: _____

The present: _____

The only source of hope: _____

1. Are there times when your need for a savior sounds offensive to you? Are there times when Christ coming to rescue you feels like a relief? If you've experienced both offense and relief, what do you believe makes you feel one or the other?
2. What do you believe God celebrates more: good behavior or humility/repentance? How might your answer to this question affect the way you think, feel, and act?
3. What are some benefits of stopping to remember our sinful past in the middle of a celebration? What are some potential dangers?
4. What is your reaction to hearing Isaiah say that we are still a mess? Do you heartily agree? Do you want to argue or defend yourself?
5. In what ways do you think admitting our current state of sin could provide freedom? In what ways could it be damaging?
6. Do you tend to believe God will come running to rescue you from your sin, or do you tend to believe God condemns you for your sin? How might your answer to this question affect the way you think, feel, and act?
