Questions for Reflection and Discussion

Ezekiel 37:1-14

The consequences of exile:

God's response:

Why this isn't a metaphor:

1. Are you generally more hopeful or more pessimistic about the future of the world/humanity? Why?
2. Are you generally more hopeful or more pessimistic about your own future spiritual growth and holiness? Why?
3. When you hear that God will redeem and restore that which is broken in the world, are you more so motivated to join His efforts or lulled into apathy? Why?
4. Why would God invite us to join Him in His work when He could do it all Himself?
5. Do you believe Christians have more of a reputation for repairing the brokenness in the world or ignoring it? Why? Which is true?
6. What is one way that you could contribute to the restoration of the world or yourself that you are currently not doing?
