Questions for Reflection and Discussion

1 Corinthians 1:4-13, 3:5-15,18-23

1. When have you seen people who disagree still admire, respect, and support one another? How do you believe they were able to have unity?
2. When have you felt division with other Christians? How did you respond? What happened?
3. What is one thing you can honestly and excitedly appreciate about those Christians?
4. What is difficult and what is liberating about letting God be the judge (instead of you) when you have disagreements?
5. What is one position or viewpoint of which you used to be absolutely certain, but now realize you were not correct? How should this inform how tightly you hold your current viewpoints or positions?
6. When you're having a heated debate with someone, what do you believe is at stake if they don't agree with you? What's the worst outcome that could happen if they don't see it your way?
7. How can the certainty of everything you have in Christ give you peace even if the "worst outcome" happens?
