Questions for Reflection and Discussion

1 Corinthians 16

1. When has serving someone or giving to someone in need made you feel more connected to that person?
2. When has asking for help made you feel more connected to others?
3. What are the typical ways you chose to spend time with those to whom you want to be connected?
4. Are some ways of spending time together more helpful in connecting people to each other than others? What makes the difference?
5. Why do you believe the Bible places such an emphasis on connection with one another in passages like 1 Corinthians 16 and all of the "one-another" commands?
6. Given the lessons from 1 Corinthians 16, if you desire to feel more connected with others, what steps must you take? What steps must others take for you?
